STEVEN NEWBERRY DEAN'S COLUMN

With the encouragement of many chapter members, one of my goals was to re-establish and improve our formal means of communications. By now, I'm sure that you have seen a marked change. I am most grateful to Sondra Tucker who is editing the Pipeline, John Meier who has reformatted and is editing the weekly e-Blasts, and Daryl Nance our webmaster who is reorganizing and updating the web site. In a few weeks we will be adding a "members only" section for which you will need a username and password. Initially, job listings will be listed in this area, and eventually other material will be added as well.

At this time of Thanksgiving, we as a chapter have much to celebrate and be thankful for, especially as we prepare to host the 2016 National Convention. More importantly, we celebrate the breadth of organ and choral events happening throughout the Houston area made possible by the talent and vision of many of our own members. I encourage you to take personal enrichment time out of your busy schedule these next couple of months to support your colleagues by attending at least one of these superb events.

Additionally, I look forward to seeing everyone at our next chapter event on Saturday, November 17 with Paul Jacobs and the River Oaks Chamber Orchestra. If you have not yet purchased your ticket, you should do so soon. Remember that discounted tickets are only available in advance. It should be an exciting evening of music and great outreach to the community.

With best wishes this holiday season,
Steve
